POLICIES RELATING TO SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking in our supply chains or in any part of our business. Our Business Ethics Policy reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships together with implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls.

Allos Holdings Ltd and its subsidiaries are committed to treating their employees in a respectful and equitable manner, providing fair rewards and benefits for the jobs they carry out. Lionel Hitchen Ltd are members of Sedex and undertake the 4 pillar SMETA audit providing our customers with assurance that we are operating in a responsible and ethical manner.

RISK ASSESSMENT

Our food ingredient supply chains are being evaluated and include reviews of geographical risks and supplier's ethical principles. These are then assessed against pre-determined criteria in order to identify areas of highest risk with regard to modern slavery. We acknowledge that certain countries will provide an increased risk of modern slavery.

Guidance is taken from The Global Slavery Index www.globalsslaveryindex.org and their modern slavery prevalence index rank is used for reviewing the geographical risks.

We have identified heightened risks where raw materials are sourced from countries which have a higher prevalence of modern slavery and suppliers are not members of Sedex. In these instances, further evaluation is conducted in order to confirm suitability of supply.

We will continue to assess the segments of our supply chain then put in place measures to mitigate identified risks. Identified actions will be put in place detailing the tasks to be carried out together with appropriate timescales and responsibilities.

DUE DILIGENCE PROCESSES FOR SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Supplier assessment is taken seriously as part of our due diligence with new suppliers being fully assessed prior to use & existing suppliers subject to regular review.

Anti-Slavery and Human Trafficking Statement

In order to monitor and mitigate the risks of slavery and human trafficking occurring within our supply chains we have been undertaking the following due diligence processes in relation to all new suppliers:

- Suppliers are required to complete self assessment questionnaires and provide product information on each raw material they supply to us. This information is reviewed and then decisions made with regards to approval for our raw material supply.
- All suppliers are requested to sign an Ethical and Social Accountability Declaration and to complete a detailed Ethical Trading Questionnaire.
- As part of our supplier approval process, we monitor which suppliers are members of Sedex & which have their own ethical declarations. These aspects are then evaluated which go towards the supplier's overall approval.
- Higher risk suppliers are visited on an annual basis by senior managers from Lionel Hitchen Ltd and if we identify cases of unethical working practices, we will undertake a review with the supplier and any suppliers deemed to be high risk will undergo further discussion or investigation and could lead to them being de-listed and not approved for the purchase of raw materials, goods or services.

STAFF TRAINING

We provide training to all key staff, particularly those involved in making purchasing decisions, to ensure that they understand the risks of modern slavery and human trafficking infiltrating our business or supply chains and effectively operate our policies and procedures aimed at mitigating this risk. Key staff attended the Sedex Conference in 2018 in order to raise further awareness of the risks and their role in mitigating them. Our next steps will be to form a Sustainability Working Group to assess activity to date and objectives for the future on sustainability and ethical standards.
